Love

Love is an understanding so complete that you feel as if you are a part of the other person accepting that person just the way he or she is and not trying to change each other to be something else

Love is the source of unity

Love is the freedom to pursue your own desires while sharing your experiences with the other person
the growth of one individual alongside of and together with the growth of another individual

Love is the source of success

Love is the excitement of planning things together the excitement of doing things together

Love is the source of the future

Since I am no longer able to practice pharmacy, for reasons beyond my control, I am trying something new. Believe it or not, and it is hard for me to believe, I have enrolled in a Para-Rabbi Program (assistant Rabbi). Even harder to believe, I am the Executive Vice President and Religious chairman of our Synagogue.

Anyway, Temple Beth Zion has been part of the Jewish Community, in Los Angeles, since the mid 1940's. Over the years our congregation has aged, and most of our elderly members have passed away. Right before the High Holidays our Rabbi passed away. We are basically starting over, kind of a grass roots movement.

I am sure most of you are wondering where I am going with this. An organization that provides Judaic information recently asked for a contribution of $2.00 and raised a lot of money for their program. We are in a tough position and trying to rebuild our congregation, and once again establish our synagogue as an important part of the community. I am asking everyone I know for a donation of $2.00 (larger donations will be gladly accepted). I know that many of you don't like to pass e-mails on, but for those of you who don't mind I would appreciate you passing this on to your friends and family.

We need help, and the only place I know to get it from is my friends and family. If you attend a synagogue or church maybe some of your fellow worshippers would be willing to help us out. If you can help please send your contribution to:

Thank you in advance for any help you can give us, and thank you for reading this. Since postage is expensive, we are not able to issue written receipts, but I will send e-mails about our progress.

I hope everyone has a Happy and Healthy New Year.

Ruth Davis sends her best wishes and good health for the entire congregation. Ruth said that a new baby is due in March. Lynne asked her whether that makes her 18th Great Grandchild. Ruth said "No". She still stands at 17 Great Grandchildren and when the new baby arrives in March, it will be her 1st Great Great Grandchild. We wish Ruth and her family good health and we send them our love. Its always wonderful hearing from her and having her check up on everyone.

Our thoughts and prayers go out to Fanny Harris.
